QUESTIONS MOTIVES OF TEXAS COWMEN WHO DEFEND PACKERS

Senator Draws Admission Packers Helped Pay Cattle-men's Expenses to Appear Against Resolution for Probe of Industry; Witnesses Deny Same Is True of Their Presence to Oppose Regulatory Bills.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 2.—Conflict over motives of witnesses appearing to oppose legislation for the regulation of the packing industry was renewed today before the senate agricultural committee. Senator Kenyon, Republican, Iowa, author of the principal regulatory measure, opened fire on W. D. Reynolds, Fort Worth, Texas, cattleman, as soon as the witness took the stand.

"You are the same man who came down here to testify for the packers when the federal resolution, proposing an investigation, came up," senator Kenyon asked.

"I am," Reynolds replied.

"When you came here before, the packers paid your expenses, didn't they?"

"Well, they paid a part of them."

"Will you tell this committee now that you do not expect to be paid again?"

"I do. I expect to pay my own expenses."

Senator Kenyon also introduced a telegram from Thomas Cretch, general attorney for the Cudahy Packing company, denying a charge made yesterday that that corporation agreed to pay the expenses of the witnesses.

J. H. Hall, another Fort Worth cattleman, attacked Kenyon and Kendrick bills as "impertinent and unnecessary."

Would Scrap British Navy; 'Isn't Needed'

Proposal Creates Lively Sensation Throughout British Isles.

London, Eng., Sept. 2.—The campaign for administrative economy is gaining momentum daily. Andrew Bonar Law, government leader in the house of commons, and J. Austen Chamberlain, chancellor of the exchequer, called to London Tuesday, especially to hold a meeting of the cabinet.

It is understood that the discussion was centered around national finances, being particularly devoted to the question of how far it would be possible to reduce estimates for the defensive services.

The demand of baron Fisher, of Kilverston, former first sea lord, for the virtual scrapping of the navy, half of which is already obsolete, on the ground that a big navy is not required, now has been revived and has been printed in all the newspapers here and has caused a great sensation.

C., Sept. 2.—Declaring the real purpose of the foreign relations committee majority in amending the peace treaty was to kill the treaty entirely, and that such amendments would be suicidal to the United States, senator Hitchcock, of Nebraska, Democratic leader, asserted in a senate speech today that the majority of the senators never would accept any of the committee changes.

Only One Change Made In Original Territorial Terms Of Treaty With Austria, Which Must Pay To Utmost

PARIS, France, Sept. 2.—(By the Associated Press).—Only one change from the original territorial terms of the Austrian peace treaty appears in the final draft of that document, submitted to the Austrian plenipotentiaries at St. Germain yesterday. The alteration is in the case of the town of Innsbruck, in the Tyrol, which had been assigned to the Austrians, although the basin is attached to Jugoslavia.

Based Announced by Germany.

One clause of the Austrian treaty, had been expected, was the effect of prohibiting the annexation of Austria by Germany. The clause reads: "The independence of Austria is inviolable; otherwise, the consent of the council of the league of nations, consequently, Austria would be obliged to abstain from any act which might directly or indirectly result in the loss of her independence, particularly until her admission to the league of nations, and the restoration of the full rights of a sovereign state."

Consul Garcia at Laredo Asserts Shooting of Aviator Occurred in Absence of Mexican Detachment's Commander; Case Referred to Superior Authorities for Instructions as to Punishing Guilty; U. S. Silent.

LAREDO, Tex., Sept. 2.—Mexican federal soldiers made the attack yesterday upon an American army airplane fired upon near here while on border patrol duty, but the machine was within Mexican territory at the time, according to Mexican consul Garcia, of Laredo.

The firing was "unwarranted," the consul said, and was done in the absence of the detachment's commander, and the case has been referred to the superior authorities for instructions as to punishment of those guilty.

The consul also said that Gen. Garcia, the Mexican commander in the Nuevo Laredo district, opposite here, "emphatically denies giving orders to his troops to fire at American troops or aircraft while in the air over the Mexican side of the boundary."

Officials remain silent.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 2.—Officials of the war and state departments said today they still had no official information of the attack on an American army airplane yesterday on the Mexican border, in which Capt. D. W. McNabb was wounded and they continued to decline to comment.

In military circles the firing upon army flyers was considered far more serious than the recent detention of two other aviators for ransom.

The fact that press dispatches referred to reported "volleys" of shots by the Mexicans was considered significant, as indicating that the air-men's assaults were under some sort of military command.

Reports here were that Gen. Joseph T. Dickson, southern department commander, has authorized to us of such situations as that caused by the incident near Laredo, without waiting on his superiors, by sending troops (Continued on page 2, column 2.)

CALLS RADICALS TO BE PART OF THE PERSHING CAMPAIGN

Communist Socialists Are Split Over Embracing Bolshevism Policies.

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 2.—An appeal was issued today inviting all elements of radicals to unite under the banner of the new Communist Labor party. In response to the invitation, the ultra-radical group of Socialists, known as Communist, sent a committee to confer with the new party to ascertain if the two factions might unite in one body. A split in the ranks of the ultra-radical Communists has developed over the question of program and policy. Alexander Stockholmsky, secretary of the Russian Socialist Federation, is leading a faction which demands that another party be formed based on Bolshevik principles, while the faction led by Denis Hart, of Detroit, favors fusion with the Communist Labor party.

The Communist Labor party delegates sang social revolutionary songs for an hour today.
